
employed by O'Malley or his assigns to bring suits against the settlers to recover the value of the islands, and he procured there suits for several years against some of the settlers paid so nothing but they then contend while others abate the suits refused to pay. In the end Gov. Keet could not find his clients and returned the money to the Islanders more than probable that the heirs can't lock this method to get something of the island, but finding the matter likely to be hotly contested gave up the contest. It is quite likely some his home and created there an excellent mansion, where he entertained Lafayette, Knox, Jackson and other distinguished men when they visited the town.

[illegible]

The history of his voyages to America is differently by different persons. He sailed to France in 1787 on an merchant ship and was said to have acquired a high health and reputation there. He sailed to France during one of the revolutions there. It was said that he had much elegant furniture, gold and silver plate and fine paintings, were deposited on board of his vessel for safekeeping by refugees and others who had fled during the reign of terror. His property the most of it was lost but the valuable stores were told of to the British. In the houses of his descendants that, this lady, may now be seen in the usual property house in Berlin, in 1830 but for some one stating which the statements conflict of which was that the death pen-dant in his home and for the death would well, he went abroad, and in the returned to Paris in 1830 committed to Saint Peter prison who claim the nature of the knows, he refused to pay the there so was in the French court sent says, judge it was recovered in twenty two years when he was away in July 1830, while he was charged from the prison and in it time after died. It is probable the law suits grew out of the which he claim a third of brought to the country prior to Mrs. Swan continued to reside on

At Dorchester, which seems to be in some way become her property, she also everything concerned with it. She is a widow and lives during the day on her premises, but was also General Jackson. The march of the Confederates and horse railroads in Dorchester through this town and the bod of its Swain and Geo Jackson were taken to Mount Auburn.

His wife will be prison Sept. 9, 1862. A fiancé K county records May 1861.

He will be done a large sum of money to the children and to the city of New York. Charles P. Rose was appointed auditor or administrator. The estate of the late Mrs. C. M. was also appointed and they reported.

He will be $150,000. His associates in the window and in the small building.

as Hancock county records are as far as I know, the settlement of 1818.

On 11 1837 Charles J. Abbott of the State of Massachusetts was named administrator of the estate of James Swan, late of Long Island, New York, and he and I were appointed at this time 1844, 1845 and 1846. His assets outside of Long Island were in the vicinity of 100 acres and valued at $65.
 I know how Mr. Abbott settled the estate, but I do not know the title to some of the lands.

His estate records show the title in "Methu O'Malley" search made for him in this country in Europe, even up to 1846 as 1896 I know of trusteeship search for his heirs.

Stockton Springs News
The correspondent writes: Captain H. Berge, after a severe illness of about six weeks passed away yesterday, March 10th. Capt. Berge went to sea from boyhood and became a master of a coasting vessel at a early age. He has had command of vessels of all kinds and has sailed to every port in both hemispheres.
He is an older stockton and most influential shipbuilder and a most influential citizen. He was the son of his first wife, was married to Clara of Prosper, to whom died, leaving four children, two of who are now Mrs. Maria Richardson and Mrs.
Shute. His second wife was Catharine Stapler. Three children, Olive, Roger and Thayer. Mrs.

Wife of Boston, and Mr. Willard, of Stratton, comprise the second party. Mrs. Berry and family, have sympathy of all in their affliction. Grace Moulton, who has been visiting at Seaport for the past year, came for a short visit.

Mr. Stowell arrived home Monday night of a few weeks in Oakland, and Grace Griffin is home again. He has been in North Seaport for several weeks.

Grace Griffin has been quite sick lately but is in her usual health again. The annual town meeting Monday, with but the following officers were present: Moderator, S. B. Littlefield, W. M. Berry, selectmen, over-see of poor and assessors, F. C. Leachard, E. A. Partridge, F. E. Crook.

Principal, J. H. Jacobs, treasurer, School agent, Samuel French, John H. E. Shute, school committee
 Griffin, F. H. Crocker, trustee
 Samuel French, constable J. H.
 French was voted to raise for other than the expense, $1 025, $1 060, school books, $100, repairs, school house, $175, decoration $100, roads and bridges $1 200 $4000 were given power to for the location of the road leading to Marsh Hill.

The Bureau Cold in One Day.
 Inactive Broom Quinine Tablets.
 Quinine refund the money if it fails to cure.

Koeley Institute, Deering, Maine, the principal teachers by spring erous weakness on which indul-in alcohol, morphine, tobacco, etc., is incidental to the Kewley Treatment. Diseases and nervous are caused by these addictions are and the general condition is ably built up strengthened and trained.

323 Third St. Wash Dc

J. W. HARTY & SONS
House and Carriage Paints, SILVER WHITE LEAD & CO.
P. DICKEY & CO.
C. E. OLIVER,
NOTARY PUBLIC,
Washington, Georgetown, Va.
1000 14th St. N. W. Washington, D. C.
Phone 1234

Col. James Swan was a character. Born in Fifeshire, Scotland, and came to this country between 1760 and 1770. He was an ardent patriot, and one of the party who threw the tea overboard in Boston harbor (December, 1773). He was a volunteer aid-de-camp to General Warren at the battle of Brandywine.

was captain of artillery in the expedition which drove the British fleet from Boston in 1777 and was afterward Adjutant General of Massachusetts. He was a merchant, politician, and leader and author at the age of twenty-two. He was on intimate terms with Washington during the Revolutionary war. In 1783 he bought an elegant estate in Dorchester, which his home and erected there an elegant mansion, where he entertained Bayette, Knox, Jackson and other distinguished men when they visited him.

The story of his voyages to London is differently by different persons. He left France in 1787 on mercantile business and was said to have acquired great wealth and reputation there. His plutions there. It was said at the time that much elegant furniture, gold, silver, and other plate and fine paintings were deposited on board of his vessel for safekeeping by refugees and others who perished during the reign of terror. It is reported that the most of it was derelict and that the fabulous stories were told of it.

tion, but (a), may now be seen of this valuable property. He in Boston in 1890 but for some use of which the statements conflict of which was that domestic peace not in his home and for the desire more wealth, etc. he went abroad n He was arrested in Paris in 1898 committed to Saint P. Lazare prison ould claim the nature of which I do know he refused to pay the claim the so was in the French courts twenty two years when he once says, judgment was recovered in favor in July 1830 when he was charged from the prison and in a time after died it is probable the law suits grew out of the suits which he claim as desert he ought to this country plan to Mrs. Swan continued to reside on at Dorchester which seems to in some way become her property, also everything acquired with it.

A widow and was buried in on the premises, she was also Gen Jackson. The march of civiliza and horse railroads in Dorchester through this town and the bodies of Swain and Gen Jackson were re moved to Mount Auburn.

He will be donated large sums of money to his children and to the city of Chicago. Charles P. Ross was appointed executor or administrator. The estate was classified insolvent. Commissioners were appointed and they reported that to be $125,082.61. His assets included a house and a fine small island.

As Hancock county records are described Rose abandoned the settlement he estate In 1837 Charles J. Abbott or was appointed administrator of estate of James Swan, late of France landed his were appraised at this $814.95 10 His assets outside his interest in Swan Island were small lands in the vicinity con-

200 acres are valued at £ 68 I do not know how Mr. Abbott settled the title, he claimed title to some of the islands as far as the records show the title in Michael O'Mahy search was made for him in this country in Europe, even up to as late as 1896 I knew of trustees in search in his heirs

Stockton Springs News
correspondent writes Captain N. Berry, after a severe illness about six weeks passed away yesterday, March 10th. Capt. Berry sailed the sea from boyhood and became master of a coasting vessel at a early age. He has had command every port is both a shipper in order of stockton a most insisting shipmasters and a good citithe first wife was Miss Clara of Prospect, who died, leaving four children two of whom are now

Mrs Maria Richardson and Mrs Shute His second wife was Caroline Stapler Three children, Olivia Rider of Bangor Mrs

West of Boston, and Mr. Willard of Stockton, comprise the second party. Mrs. Berry and family have sympathy of all in their affliction. Miss Grace Moulton, who has been living at Searsport for the past year, came for a short visit. Henry Stowell arrived home Monday for a visit of a few weeks to Oakland, and Miss Griffin is home again. He has Grace Griffin has been quite sick but is in her usual health again. The annual town meeting Monday, with the following officers were Moderator, S. H. Littlefield, W. M. Berry, selectmen, over poor and assessors, F. L. Hard, E. A. Partridge, F. F. Crook-

Reuben agent, Samuel French, or, H E Shute, school committee
 Griffin, F H Crocker, trustee
 Samuel French, constable JH
 It was voted to raise for poor other town expenses, $1 625, $1 000, school books, $100, repair school house, $175, Decoration $10, roads and bridges $1 200 selection were given power to

To Cure a Cold in One Day Relaxative Bromo Quinine Tablets.
 Suggests refund the money if it fails.
 25c.

Keeley Institute, Deering, Maine, teaches practical temperance by curing erious weakness on which indul-

in alcohol, morphine, tobacco, etc., is incidental to the Xesley Treat-many diseases and nervous caused by these addictions are
and the general condition is highly built up strengthened and trained.

For Infants and Children.

